1. Getting Started

The following guide is designed to help you access the My:Bank system. This system will allow you to book shifts, release timesheets, view payslips and change your availability.

You will be able to access My:Bank from either a PC (desktop or laptop), smartphone or tablet. This system is designed to be used with many different types of computer or mobile device – for ease of use this user guide has been created from the computer version of the system.

Open up an internet browser (Google Chrome, Internet Explorer, or other) and type in the following address:

NHSP 2015

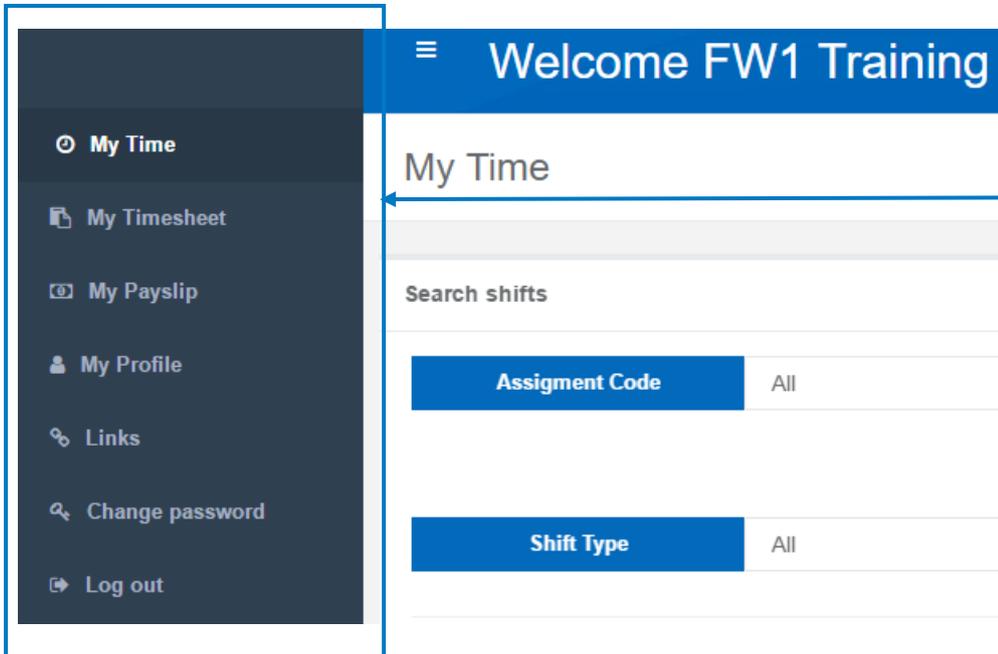

Enter your username and password and click or tap Login

If you have forgotten your password click on the 'Forgot Password?' link and then follow the section entitled 'Changing or Resetting your Password'

1. The Menu.

The menu runs down the left hand side of the page and is always displayed.

You can hide or show the menu using the  button next to the welcome message.

Each of these Menu options will be covered within this guide.

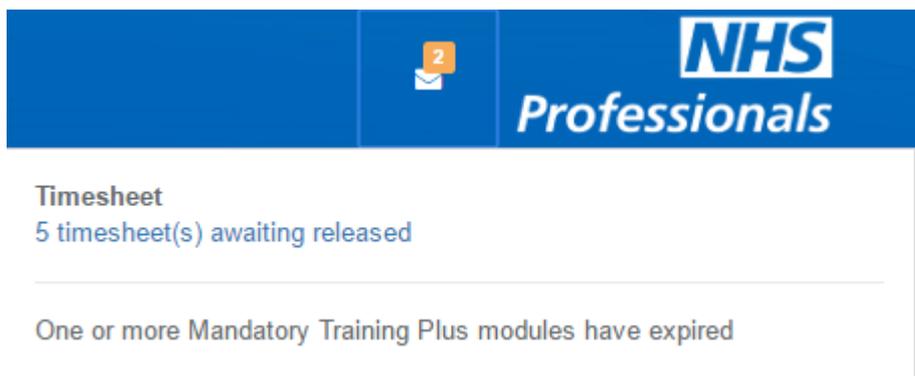

2. Notifications:

Notifications are displayed in the top right hand side of the screen.

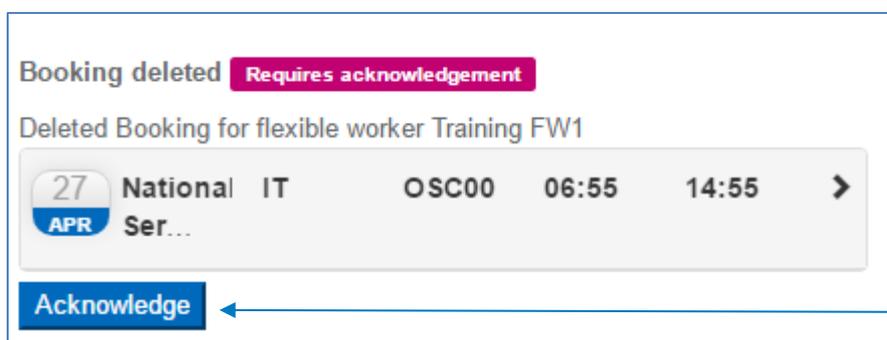

Notifications will include mandatory training expiration, timesheets that have been authorised and shift cancellations/bookings.

Click the envelope to read/action these notifications.

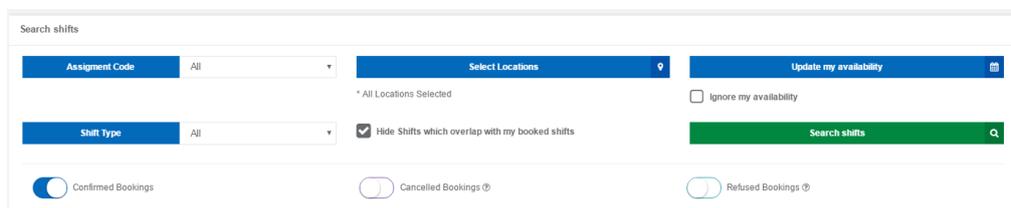

If you have been booked or cancelled for a shift that starts within the next 24 hours you will see a notification for this:

You should acknowledge this by clicking the acknowledge button

2. Searching for Shifts (My Time)

The search shifts option will allow you to search for available shifts based on the options that you select:

By default the system will search for shifts based on the availability that you have entered.

If you choose to, you can use the 'Ignore My Availability' option to search for shifts on all days, irrespective of any availability you have entered.

You can also choose to hide available shifts that overlap with shifts you have already booked.

Enter the filter options if you require – you can select Assignment codes/locations and shift types to filter by

Once you have selected your filter options click the 'Search shifts' button

Once you have selected your search parameters and clicked or tapped the 'Search Shifts' button you will see the search results appear in the calendar – it will tell you how many available shifts there are on each day.

The calendar will display each day and the number of available shifts. You can also see if you have entered any availability for that date in the header of the day

Saturday
Available all day	1
17 Available Shifts

This calendar entry shows a date that you have entered availability and there are available shifts

2.1 Booking a shift

To book a shift, you will need to click the 'Available Shifts' option:

This will then pop up the available shifts for that day:

4 Available Shifts on 01 Apr 2017
Reference No.	Location	Ward	Code	Start	End	Action
74923164	National Service Centre	Testing	OSC00	18:00	18:30	Book ✓
74923162	National Service Centre	Testing	OSC00	19:00	05:30	Book ✓
74923163	National Service Centre	Testing	OSC00	19:00	05:30	Book ✓
74922939	National Service Centre	IT	OSC00	09:00	17:00	Book ✓

Click on the shift to see an expanded view, which shows additional shift information, including an notes that the Trust have added.

Please ensure that you read any notes that are attached to the request – these hold important information which may make you unable to undertake the work required.

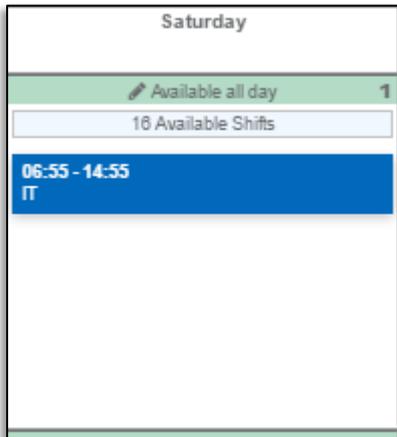

Once you have read the notes, and you are certain that you want to work this shift, click the  button.

You will receive confirmation if your shift has been successfully booked.

2.2 Refusing (cancelling) a shift

If you can no longer work a shift, you can refuse it by tapping or clicking the shift:

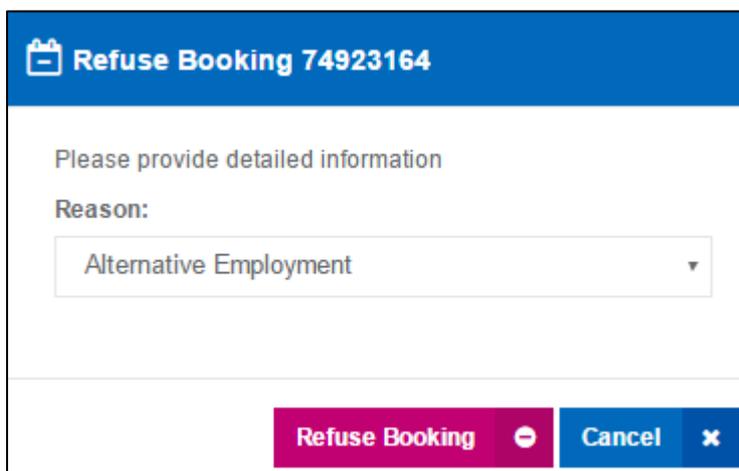

You will then be given the option to refuse that shift:

If you are refusing a shift that starts within the next 24 hours you will see the outlined message

Select a reason for the refusal

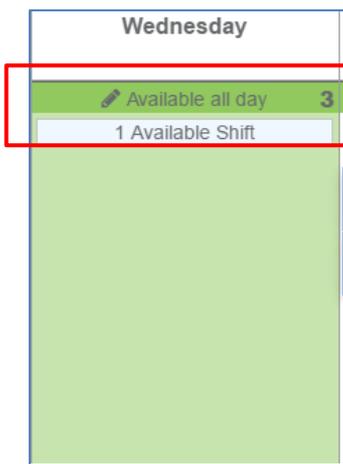

Once your booking has been successfully refused you will receive a notification

3. My Time (Availability)

My Time will allow you to update NHS Professionals systems to indicate when you are available and any lead time that you may have. (Lead time indicates a number of hours prior to shift starts when you do not wish to be contacted for available shifts)

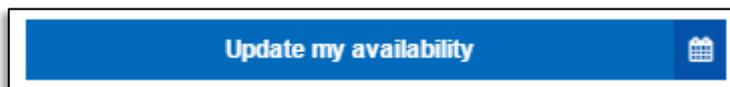

It's now much easier to keep your availability up to date, and it doing so means that your searches will only return shifts that are suitable!

Where you have added availability the calendar entry will be highlighted in the availability bar:

3.1 Adding Availability & Lead Time

You can click on an individual day and add availability for that day, or you can click the update my availability button

Start by entering in the date range (if you have clicked on an individual date, this option will not be available)

You can select multiple dates by clicking on the first date of your availability and the last date of your availability:

Once you have selected your dates click 'Apply'

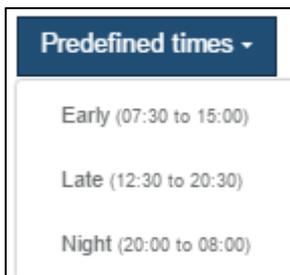

Then enter your lead time. Lead time is the number of hours that you will need to prepare for and travel to your shift

You can then select your availability:

The form contains a radio button selected for 'Availability not set'. It features 'From:' and 'To:' labels with time input boxes showing '09:00' and '18:00' respectively. A blue button labeled 'Predefined times' is positioned to the right. Below the time inputs are two radio buttons: 'Available all day' (unselected) and 'Availability not set' (selected).

You can enter specific times that you are available using the from and to boxes, or use the Predefined Times button to select from some common defaults

The dropdown menu is titled 'Predefined times' and lists three options: 'Early (07:30 to 15:00)', 'Late (12:30 to 20:30)', and 'Night (20:00 to 08:00)'.

You can also select that you are available all day or that you have no availability (Availability not set)

If you have selected more than one day in the date range, you can then select which days of the week this availability applies to

A row of seven days: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Each day has a blue checkmark icon below it, indicating that all days are selected.

Once you have finished click the save button and your availability will be updated.

4. My Timesheet

When you enter the My Timesheet menu option you will be shown a declaration about releasing timesheets. It is very important that read and understand the details of the declaration before you click ok

Once you have read the declaration you should click the Ok button, by default, My:Bank will display any timesheet awaiting release for the past month:

Use the date range selector and the timesheet status to select your filters. Once you have selected your filters click 'Find Timesheet'

Once you have selected your filter options, click the 'Find Timesheet' button to search for your timesheets.

A list of timesheets will be displayed to you. You can 'Release' (approve your timesheet for payment) or 'Query' (Query a timesheet only if you think that the details are incorrect) your timesheet. If you wish to view further details about your timesheet, tap or click the arrow next to the timesheet.

Actual	09:00	17:00	00:30	07:30

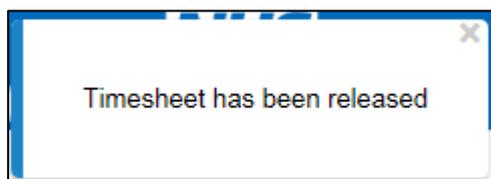

Your timesheet details will be displayed. Check here for modifications to your timesheet, they will be displayed as a difference between 'Booked' and 'Actual' hours

4.2 Releasing Your Timesheet

Once you have ensured that the timesheet details are correct you can release your timesheet by clicking the blue 'Release' button.

Date	Location	Ward	Code	Total	Status
4 MAR	National Service Centre	IT	OSC00	07:30	Awaiting Release	Release Query >

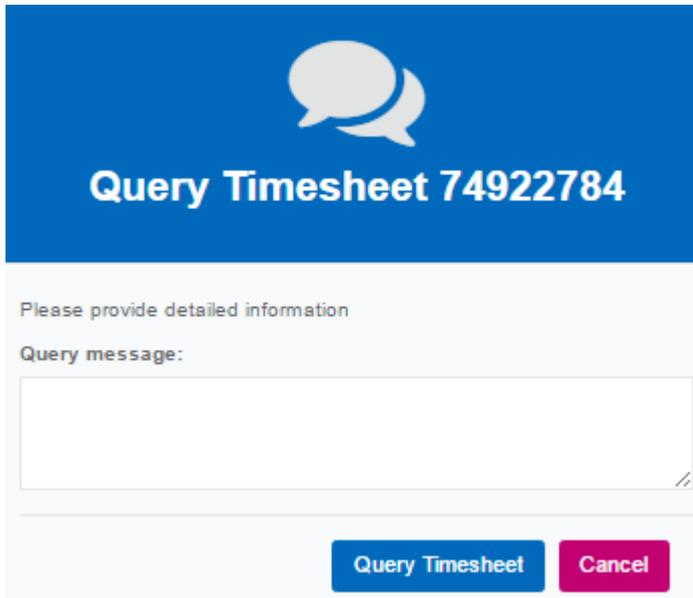

You will receive confirmation that your timesheet has been released.

4.3 Querying Your Timesheet

If you feel that the timesheet does not accurately reflect the hours you worked, you should 'Query' your timesheet by clicking the green 'Query' button.

You will be prompted to enter a reason for your query – this is free text, ensure you enter a concise reason as to why your timesheet is incorrect. This will send your query to the ward/dept you worked on and they will review your query.

Query Timesheet 74922784

Please provide detailed information

Query message:

Query Timesheet Cancel

Once you have entered your reason click 'Query Timesheet'. You will receive confirmation that you have queried your timesheet.

Please note, that once you have queried a timesheet, it will be sent to the manager to modify or authorise. Once you have queried a timesheet, the query cannot be removed and you cannot release the timesheet until the manager has actioned it.

5. My Payslip

To find your payslips, click on the 'My Payslip' Menu option.

When the page has loaded, you will be able to select a month/year to search for your payslip. Once you have selected your search options click 'Find Payslip'
